Timothy P. Tryniecki and J. Thomas Mudd published in Law360 article "When And How To Depose Fact Witnesses Remotely in 2022"

December 8, 2021

Virtual hearings will continue into 2022 which means courts and attorneys will continue to navigate the various elements of remote proceedings – including fact witness depositions.

MG+M litigators Timothy P. Tryniecki and J. Thomas Mudd authored an article in Law360 outlining the best practices on how to best prepare for remote depositions, from understanding regulations surrounding remote protocols to discussing technological considerations. Following these steps can help ensure that such a pivotal stage of the discovery process is consistent, compliant, and safe for all parties involved.

Read the full article here.

Attorney Advertising. This material is for general informational purposes only and does not represent our advice as to any particular set of facts; nor does it represent any undertaking to keep recipients advised of all legal developments. Prior results do not guarantee a similar outcome. © 2026 MG+M The Law Firm