Overview

Bryan Wang represents clients in complex litigation and focuses his practice on general liability defense. He has worked on various phases of litigation, including investigations, electronic discovery, depositions and trial preparation.

Prior to joining MG+M, Bryan worked on complex antitrust litigation matters, including helping large commercial companies recover antitrust claims involving unfair competition, price-fixing, reverse-payment settlements and monopolization.

While attending law school, Bryan received six Witkin awards for receiving top course marks. He was requested to join the SACK Fellowship, a teaching position awarded to students that earned the highest grades in their classes, and he belonged to the Pro Bono Society.
