Overview

Taylor focuses her practice on premises liability, general liability and toxic tort litigation.

While at Baylor Law School, Taylor gained valuable experience through externships with the Honorable Judge Jeffery C. Manske in the US District Court for the Western District of Texas and Justice Matt Johnson in the Texas Tenth Court of Appeals.

Taylor was actively involved in Baylor's advocacy program, served as a member of the Baylor Barristers and successfully competed on nationally ranked moot court teams. She was an associate editor for Baylor Law Review and worked as a grading assistant for the litigation drafting course and as a research assistant for the transactional law department, focusing on fiduciary litigation.

Outside of the office, Taylor loves attending New York City Ballet performances, taking reformer Pilates classes and exploring NYC's cuisine.
