Overview

Edward focuses his practice on toxic tort, premises and general liability matters.

He first joined MG+M The Law Firm as a law clerk, assisting on premises liability, toxic tort liability, intellectual property and other civil litigation matters. He also spent time in the Trial Division of the Massachusetts Attorney General's Office as a Rule 3:03 Certified Student Attorney, defending the Commonwealth in eminent domain and tort actions. While at the Attorney General's Office, he took depositions, drafted motions and argued before the Suffolk Superior Court, gaining practical litigation experience that he now brings to his work at MG+M.
