

MG+M Welcomes New York Partner Christian Gannon

June 27, 2023

MG+M The Law Firm welcomes Christian Gannon as a partner in our New York office. Christian brings more than three decades of experience and trial success to his practice representing clients in construction, toxic tort, general liability and commercial litigation.

“MG+M enthusiastically welcomes Christian to our firm and our partnership, as he delivers a wealth of trial experience and leadership acumen,” says MG+M Chairperson and Partner John B. Manning. “His arrival enhances our local and national construction, toxic tort, general liability and commercial litigation capabilities, empowering us to provide even greater value to firm clients and further cementing our reputation as a go-to litigation firm in New York and nationally.”

Christian joins MG+M from a national Chicago-based law firm, where he previously served as co-chairman of the firm, a member of the Executive Committee and managing shareholder of the New York office. He received his JD from Fordham University School of Law and his BA in history from Fordham University. He is admitted to practice in the state and federal courts of New York and New Jersey, as well as the US Courts of Appeals for the Second and Third Circuits.

Christian adds to the impressive rank of partners in our New York office, which recently relocated to the iconic Brookfield Place along the Hudson River in Lower Manhattan. Christian's arrival not only enhances our regional capabilities for clients in New York but also strengthens our national offerings to clients from across our 14 US offices.
