John B. Manning to Co-Chair Perrin Conferences' 2025 National Asbestos Litigation Conference

July 25, 2025

MG+M The Law Firm Partner and Chairperson John B. Manning will co-chair the 2025 National Asbestos Litigation Conference hosted by Perrin Conferences on September 16–17 at The Charleston Place Hotel in Charleston, South Carolina. John has served as co-chair of this industry-leading event since its inception in 2009. MG+M is a proud sponsor of the conference and Tuesday evening networking reception. View the agenda and register to attend.

As co-chair, John will help lead the welcome and opening remarks on Tuesday, September 16. He also plays a key role in shaping the agenda for the conference, which brings together leading plaintiff and defense lawyers, in-house counsel, insurers, judges and technical experts to discuss the evolving asbestos and talc litigation landscape.

John is a seasoned litigator and national coordinating counsel for multiple corporations, directing the defense of litigation matters in all 50 states. He leads MG+M's Complex Litigation Group, which spans 16 cities throughout the United States.

“I look forward with great enthusiasm to serving as co-chair of the Perrin Conferences National Asbestos Litigation Conference,” John says. “Having participated as co-chair since 2009, I remain very proud and honored to contribute to this dynamic conference that, now in its 17th year, continues to bring together a broad spectrum of fresh perspectives and constituencies from across the asbestos and talc litigation landscape. Each year, the discourse grows more nuanced and insightful, reflecting the ever-evolving nature of this complex area of law.”

MG+M is pleased to support this important event and looks forward to another year of thought-provoking discussion and meaningful industry collaboration.
